LEBANON GIRL HEADS THE LIST

High Score Made by Florence Madley in Collecting Tent Caterpillar Nests—Collected 46,200—Total So Far in State Competition For School Children is 4,829,845 Egg Masses.

The egg mass destroying contest started last November by the Connecticut Agricultural college extension service in co-operation with the state board of education continues to grow in enthusiasm. Thousands of school children are spending their spare time collecting the egg masses of the tent caterpillar, the insect that causes the unsightly nests on fruit and roadside trees.

Florence Madley of Lebanon.

The records received are mostly from state supervised schools, and even then only from schools that have collected 3,000 or more egg masses. Disregarding the schools that have failed to send in reports and those that have not reached the 3,000 mark, the total collected up to March 1st was 4,829,845. The highest single score is that of Florence Madley of the Sixth district school in the town of Lebanon, whose score is 46,200. The second and third places are held by Oscar Lee of the Eleventh district, Ledyard, and Harry May of the Eighth district, Ledyard, with scores of 44,300 and 35,600, respectively.

Closes April 30th.

The contest closes April 30th, when all reports should be promptly made. State supervised schools will make their report through their supervisor, as usual. Non-supervised schools should report directly to the Connecticut Agricultural college extension service.

Score to March 1st.

saying that some time within three months a train was to visit her, though the house is generally tidy, things would shine a little more and every attention given to make the home attractive for the visitor. Jesus said when he went away, "I will come again," and the thing many of us should do is to clean house, for he may come unexpectedly.

Whatever may be our opinion as to the coming back of the Christ, we all agree that life is uncertain and no one knows when the death angel shall knock at his door.

During the past week two of my acquaintances in this city have been suddenly called away from the earth. One week ago they were both apparently as well as any of us. I say it reverently. God only knows whose turn it will be next; hence the absolute necessity of being ready, and the wisdom of preparing now if we are not already prepared.

The entire company seemed deeply impressed with the earnest talk.

NORWICH TOWN

First Baptist Pastor and Choir at the Sheltering Arms—Death of Mrs. John Banning, Widow of Civil War Veteran.

Rev. G. H. Strouse and choir of the First Baptist church gave the house-hold at the Sheltering Arms a pleasant hour Sunday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Strouse took for his subject The Permanency of Love, with all God's omnipotence and might, yet all His love, we need not fear Him. If we have His love we have the best thing in the world; without it we are poor. When God's love fills the universe and is in our hearts, then it will be broken up.

Many from here will be in Willimantic this week to attend the sessions of the New England Southern conference of the Methodist church. There will be a thousand ministers in attendance.

Mrs. E. G. Northrop of Stonington Point, Mrs. Frank Clifford, with her daughter Anna, of New London, and Mrs. John Kilroy of Yantic have spent some time at their former home near Peck's Corner this last week, getting the household goods ready to be removed, as on account of their father's death the home is to be broken up.

Russia last year nearly doubled its production of hops over the figures for the previous year.
